

IF IT USES GAS, IT NEEDS HARRIS.

Harris Specialty Gas Equipment Division was founded to provide complete solutions to customer's special gas handling requirements. The breadth of the product line is used in analytical labs, chemical processing, research and development, as well as biotech and pharmaceuticals. Our products bring together proven safety features, quality manufacturing processes, consistency in performance and the best overall value. In the introduction module, you'll learn about Harris' Specialty Gas Equipment, the industries in which it's sold, and how to expand your customer base.

Find our Specialty Gas training module on Baker's training portal.
