

Machine- and Software-Operator trainer(m/w/d), Scheifling, Austria

ZEMAN Bauelemente – a Lincoln Electric company – is the leading designer and manufacturer of robotic assembly and arc welding systems that automate the tacking and welding of steel beams. Headquartered in Scheifling, Austria with office facilities in Vienna, Austria, our company's systems are primarily sold under the Steel Beam Assembler (SBA) name and serve customers in the structural steel and infrastructure sectors globally. At Zeman, we offer all our employees inclusive development and excellent career perspectives. Highly motivated lateral entrants, who are eager to learn and develop their skills, are welcome to join our individual development programs.

Your mission:

- Carrying out customer training for software and machine operation at home and abroad (worldwide)
- Customer support in learning the software and understanding the machine
- Carrying out operator retraining for existing customers
- Interne Schulungen für neue Mitarbeiter
- Keeping training records
- Creation of training certificates and documents
- Creating training videos
- Accompanying preliminary and final acceptance tests at the customer's premises
- Actively contributing suggestions for improvement

Your Profil:

- Very good written and spoken English skills
- High willingness to travel
- Convincing appearance towards customers
- Flexible way of working and spontaneous solution finding
- Good IT skills
- Personality with an affinity for technology
- Respectful interaction with customers

We offer:

- Dynamic team
- Annual bonus based on company success and personal performance
- Flextime with 38.5 h/week (thus 4-day week possible)
- Corporate benefits - discount program
- Company phone + laptop
- Freedom for personal development and ideas as well as further training opportunities Gross monthly salary according to collective agreement from: 3,207.73 Depending on professional experience and willingness to travel, the monthly salary can be significantly higher than the collective agreement..

Interested?

Send your CV and application to:
bewerbung@zebau.com