Bridgit lead-free solder is specifically formulated for plumbing and other applications. Its flow properties are designed to make it an easy replacement for 50/50 tin-lead solder. Its wider melting range makes it easier to fill poorly fitted parts and “cap” the finished connection. When heated to its liquidus temperature it will quickly flow into standard clearance connections.

ASTM B32 Alloy HB,

 NSF/ANSI 61 Annex G, NSF/ANSI 372 and conforms with lead content requirements for “lead free” plumbing as defined by California, Vermont, Maryland, and Louisiana state laws, and the US Safe Drinking Water Act amendments effective January 2014.

Bridgit Burn Resistant Flux or Harris Water Soluble Flux (ASTM B813).
